JUDGE WINBURN SITS IN THREE J. P. COURTS

Judge Oscar E. Winburn of Grass Valley, is acting in an official capacity for Judge Walter Mobley of Nevada City and Judge C. A. Ocker of Truckee in the Meadowlake Township, this week.

Judge Ocker is ill and Judge Mobley was called to San Francisco on business where he will be detained for about ten days.

County Superintendent Mrs. Ella M. Austin has spent most of this week in the eastern part of Nevada county, visiting schools.

Can She Can? She Can!

The world's best canner—that's the title won by Mrs. Gertrude Klingberg, above, of Beloit, Wis., whose preserves won the grand championship of the international canning contest held at the World's Fair. Her entries, jars of cranberry and grape juice, breast of chicken, baby carrots, string beans, pears and red raspberries, won over 100,000 other entries, from every continent.

SKI CLUB PLANS BIG PROGRAM OF WINTER SPORTS

Judge Miles Coughlin, president of the Nevada City-Grass Valley Ski course, located nine miles east of Nevada City, with others recently choosen officers, has planned extensive improvements for the winter sports activities at the ski course this year. The program among other things calls for a motor-operated toboggan return at the top of the toboggan slide. A powerful motor is to be installed which will operate an endless cable that will return passengers to the top of the hill after a swift glide down the course. The engine house and motor were set up last year, but unusually heavy snows wrecked the building and the motor was not used.

A number of improvements have been made at the Ski grounds each year. Four years ago an exterior of rough hewn logs was placed about the old stables at the old Central House Hotel, halfway between Nevada City and Washington, making a warm and attractive building.

The course boasts of one of the best toboggan slides in the Sierras, two ski hills, one for professionals and one for amateurs, and one of the most unique club houses in the state.

A good attendance of members last Sunday got in a fine days work in their cleanup program and it will not be long until the Ski Club grounds will be in readiness for the throngs of visitors who come from long distances to enjoy the snow sports.

While the workers were gathered about the lunch table, President Miles Coughlin tossed a piece of white quartz on the table that was freely shot with gold. Quite a bit of excitement was manifested when Don C. Billick, Nevada City assayer stated ore like the sample would run $2,000 to the ton. Coughlin could not give a definite location of his find and it was decided all would return to their labors of cleaning the brush and repairing the ski course.

NUGGET OFFICE WILL BE CLOSED ARMISTICE DAY

The Nevada City Nugget will observe Armistice Day in a befitting manner by closing up for the day. Ye editors etc. will refuse to do any work what-so-ever and the whole force will be found scattered thither and yon, making various forms of Whopee!

V. F. W. WILL HONOR ERNEST DE PRATTI

Mr. Ernest de Pratti of French Corral will be initiated into the Banner Mountain Post, V. F. W., Saturday evening as an honorary member.

He is to be presented with a gold button emblem honoring him as the last surviving Civil War Veteran in Nevada county.

Mr. Pratti, although along in years, is a spry and active man, deeply interested in gold mining and politics. He owns a mining property near French Corral.

HUNDRED MEN AT WORK ON RED DOG PROPERTY

C. L. Chase, who took over the Thompson gravel property of about 1400 acres in the Red Dog-You Bet country several months ago has a crew of 100 men employed in getting the property in readiness for hydraulicking for the yellow metal.

Three shifts are being worked in driving a 10 foot tunnel to be used in hydraulic operations. A crew is also engaged in digging ditches to carry water for mining. Electricity was cut into the property this fall, the mining company erecting the poles and stringing the wires to the works.

A saw mill was set up in timber on the property some time ago and has been running night and day getting out timber for the mine.

TRUCK LICENSE, SACTO. TO GRASS VALLEY, DENIED

Holding that a certification of an auto truck carrier between Sacramento and Grass Valley might cause the abandonment of the Nevada County Narrow Gauge Railroad, the Railroad Commission has denied the application of Walter E. Eck and William F. Bennetts for such a certificate.

Shippers testified that the abandonment of rail service would be greatly detrimental to the fruit growing interests of the territory that it serves. Mining men testified that the railroad was necessary to the gold mining industry in the shipment of heavy machinery, mining timbers, etc.

Commenting on the situation the decision of the Railroad Commission has the following to say in part:

"It appears that the unregulated truck operators have by cut-throat competition made serious inroads upon the narrow gauge rail traffic, to the extent that the carload revenues have been depressed at least 13 per cent and the proposed truck service would seriously jeopardize about 75 per cent of the entire L. C. L. tonnage originating in Sacramento, San Francisco and Oakland. It was shown that reduction in rail rates from time to time has been made on various commodities to meet the growing competition of wild-cat carriers resulting in continued diminished revenues.

"After a careful review of all the evidence in this proceeding we are of the opinion and find as a fact that the public convenience and necessity do not require the establishment of the truck service proposed by applicants. The evidence shows that the existing carriers are adequately serving the territory involved, and while the proposed truck service might meet the demands of certain retail shippers and other receivers of freight such an additional service would no doubt intensify present competitive conditions and seriously impair the service of the protesting carriers particularly the Narrow Gauge Railroad who are meeting satisfactorily the demands of most of the shippers and merchants."

Bids Asked On Four Star Mail Routes From Nevada City

The Postoffice Department is advertising for bids on contracts for the four star routes which radiate from Nevada City Postmaster Phil Scadden states that there will be a large number of bidders this year for the four-year term of the contracts.

Bids on these contracts must be in the hands of the U. S. Postoffice Department at 4:30 p. m. January 16, 1934.

The bidders must submit a flat figure for each route and put up a bond specified in the instructions from the Postmaster General.

The four routes on which bids will be received are:

Nevada City to Downieville with mail to North San Juan, Log Cabin, Camptonville, and Goodyear Bar. The contract price on this route for the past four years, has been $3,775 per year, with an allowance of a cent a pound for parcel post over 1000 pounds to Downieville, and fractional amounts per pound over the 1000 pound limit for the postoffices served along the route.

Nevada City to Forest—with mail for North Columbia and Alleghany. This route now pays $6,900 a year, with a cent a pound for parcel post over 1,000 pounds.

Nevada City to Washington—This route now pays $2400 per year and 75 cents per hundred pounds for parcel post over 1000 pounds.

Nevada City to Graniteville—with service to North Bloomfield. This route now pays $5200 per year with 2 cents per pound on parcel post over 1,000 pounds.

Postmaster Scadden is making an effort to have Nevada City made the terminal of the star route to Marysville. Under present instructions the route will be let from Marysville as a starting point, but owing to the fact that Nevada City is now the distributing point during the summer time for the C. C. C. camps and now has the highway department yards adjacent to the city, it is believed that with divisional headquarters for these activities in Marysville, mail facilities will be greatly improved by making this city the terminal of the route. At the present time the mail is shipped by way of Roseville and reaches this city much later than if it were sent direct from Marysville to Nevada City.

LIEUT. CHAPMAN AT U. S. AVIATION FIELD

In a letter just received from Lieut. Sargant Chapman, son of Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Chapman of this city, stationed at Wrights Aviation Field, near Dayton, Ohio, he related many interesting events of the army camp and it's life.

Recently an interesting contact camp for army officers of the Dayton area was held.

Lieutenant Chapman recently gave a demonstration of new airplane propellers before 150 army officers.

M. D. Shea of Alleghany arrived in Nevada City Wednesday after a round trip by plane to Los Angeles.

HARMONY RULES AT NARROWS DAM HEARING

Aside from a perfunctory protest made by the Anti-Debris association, the adjourned hearing on hydraulic mining before the United States Engineers of the California Debris Commission in Sacramento Wednesday under unusually harmonious circumstances.

Offsetting the formal protest of the Anti-Debris Association was the statement of Halsey Dunning, Marysville hotel man and influential civic leader, and Norton Ware, chief engineer of the Sutter Butte Canal company of Gridley, that the rank and file of valley business men and farmers were solidly in favor of the dam at the Narrows in the Yuba river above Smartsville. They declared that not only would it enable owners of hydraulic gravels to extract the gold therein, but it would prevent the annual deluge of sediment gravel which is washed down every year from the old gravel diggings in the Yuba watershed.

Edward Hyatt, chief of the State Division of Water Rights, also went on record as approving debris dams at the Narrows, and also on the Bear and American rivers.

Frank A. Crampton of the Remington Hill gravel mine offered a plan for a debris dam in the Bear river basin, submitting the Jarman report to the effect that there were 32,000,000 yards of gravel available for hydraulic mining, were such a dam to be built. James A. Stewart presented figures for Auburn, advocating a dam on the American river.

W. E. Wright and Edw. C. Uren of Nevada City pointed out the many advantages which would accrue to the mining industry in this county, were the projected dam at the Narrows in the Yuba actually erected.

Congressman Harry E. Englebright, who succeeded in obtaining the resolution of the Rivers and Harbors committee, directing that hearing be held, was the last speaker. He stressed the important place the gold mining industry has in the Recovery program of the Roosevelt administration and sketched in outline the many benefits which would flow to mining, agricultural and business interests as a result of the building of debris dams, and reopening of tremendous areas of gold-bearing gravels of the several water sheds to hydraulic mining.

Among the Nevada county residents who attended the session were Congressman Harry L. Englebright, E. C. Uren, W. E. Wright, W. W. Waggoner, County Clerk R N. McCormack, and members of the county board of supervisors.

Capt. J. G. Drinkwater, secretary of the U. S. Debris Commission presided at the hearing. The commission will forward the report of the hearing to the United States Board of Army Engineers, which will make a recommendation to Congress which can then act on the various projects.

Mrs. Belle Thompson, of Belle's Beauty Shop, Grass Valley, was visited during the week end by her husband, John A. Thompson, postmaster of Cloverdale, and her daughter, Lynden.

HITLER DISTURBS EUROPE

One fine afternoon back in 1913 an obscure prince was shot in the equally obscure city of Sarajevo. To most of the world the event simply meant one more scarehead and nothing more. Then armies began mobilizing. Lights burned late in chancellories. The British Navy set out for maneuvers several weeks ahead of the normal time. And the greatest war in history was underway.

Matters are not especially different in Europe now. Hitler's withdrawal of Germany from the League of Nations and the disarmanet conference, has sent the greatest scare since those 1913 days through premiers and emperors, congresses and parliaments. The Hitler position is that the Versailles treaty is unbearable—that the refusal to meet Germany on an equal basis so far as armanents, especially, are concerned, thrusts the blame onto the other powers and that whatever happens will be their fault. Position of the other powers is more vague than that, and more confused. But they definitely fear Germany. Theoretically she has no army, save a small Reichswehr made up of picked men in for long terms. Practically, she has a great army, consisting of Hitler's brown shirts, which, under command of schooled Reichswehr officers, is powerful indeed. Her great lack is the weapons of offense—artillery, tanks, planes.

Final decision may be left to France, which has most at stake, is most afraid. Many European statesmen believe it is time to declare a preventative war on Germany, crush her absolutely and unseat Hitler, before she has time to prepare. Smaller countries are alarmed—barricades are rising on the Swiss frontier, and her small, but first-class army received increased appropriations, went into harsh training. There is a link of nations around Germany of which but one, France, is great—the others, however, by cumulative action, could make it very unpleasant for Hitler.

So far as the United States is concerned, these events are of only economic importance. Roosevelt policy will doubtless be to keep hands off—even in case of war, to pursue complete and dispassionate neutrality. It's Europe's affair—and the fires are burning faster daily.

ECONOMIC HIGHLIGHTS

It is now expected that the New Year will see the approval of all the industrial codes. That will mean that the National Recovery Administration has completed its first great task. At this writing, 59 codes, covering the basic industries, have been approved. One-hundred-thirty-seven are being revised. Forty-seven are scheduled for early hearings. By the time this is read the retail code, which was one of the most difficult, will have been approved unless an unlooked-for problem crops up. Most interesting feature of this code is that it will eliminate selling at less than inventory cost, a practice which has been prevalent especially among large stores, which advertise "leaders" at less than cost in the hope that customers buying them will buy other goods on which a profit is made. Very small stores, in towns of bottom-bracket population, will be immune to code provisions.

One important NRA problem is going to be the attitude of the press. Here's where the recovery administration made a possibly far-reaching mistake. When General Johnson excluded two reporters from his conference, because he didn't like what they had been writing about NRA, he was doing the unprecedented. Then he put his foot in deeper by advocating a licensing system for papers, and just about every metropolitan editor in the country ran for his typewriter. On top of that, an NRA representative in the South called on the editor of a medium-sized paper, told him that if he didn't stop making unfriendly comment on NRA labor provisions, he'd find himself in trouble. The editor spoke up in his paper and found the whole press, including the most zealous supporters of the Roosevelt program, behind him. This threatened press censorship is vitally important, and sparks are going to fly when it really comes to a head.

NEVADA CITY PARENTS GO "BACK TO SCHOOL"

Thursday evening a group of parents of Nevada City high school students assumed the roles of students assembling at the local high school for the annual "Back to School Night."

Each parent was equipped with a daily program similar to the one being carried out by their sons or daughters, now attending the high school.

The parents went through typical ten minute periods in the different class rooms with teachers explaining briefly.

At the close of the eight period the parents gathered in the assembly for a discussion of the work and to partake of a dainty lunch.

This program has been worked out as a part of Educational Week and a number of parents were present to assist in making the event a success.

John McKee of San Francisco spent last week end visiting with his father, Attorney H. M. McKee, at his home Mckeesport up on the Tahoe Ukiah highway.

The Nevada City-Grass Valley Ski Club is holding a meeting at 8 P. M. to discuss the cooming winter sports and plans for another work day at the grounds in the near future.

DUTCH FLAT IS TO RESUME ACTIVITY

The supervisors of Placer County have entered into a contract with Francis G. Fabian of Chicago for the mining lands under the public streets, roads and alleys of that famous old minig town of Dutch Flat.

Fabian has contracts with nearly all of the property owners in Dutch Flat, and plans to extract the gravel from under the entire town.

Charles Geisendorfer, one of the supervisors of Placer County has been appointed by the Board of Supervisors t orepresent them in any adjustment that may be made in connection with the contract.

At one time Dutch Flat was the center of a large hydraulic mining community and several thousand persons were located there in the early days. It is claimed that there are still many thousands of dollars to be taken out of this section..

Mr. Fabian has been operating the Enterprise Mine in the Quarker Hill district for several months past.

MURCHIE DEVELOPES GOOD ORE AT DEPTH

The Murchie mine, east of Nevada City, is mining 200 tons of ore daily.

Extensive reserves of excellent ore reported blocked out on the 1,600 foot level and higher levels. Late development work has proven the persistence of the vein system to greater depth.

Ore of the Murchie mine carries high percentage of rich sulphides, with the mill feed carrying an average of over $15 per ton in gold.

A large oil flotation plant at the mine is used in recovering values.

The Murchie mine is reported to be earning close to $85,000 monthly.

REMINGTON HILL GETS READY FOR MONITORS

About twenty men are now employed at Remington Hill where final work is being rushed for hydraulic operations this spring. The company has spent a large sum of money in erecting houses, buying and installing machinery and rebuilding the ditches and flumes.

HOMESTAKE MINE IN GOOD GRAVEL VALUES

W. L. Jones, who has a lease and option on the Homestake mine of 80 acres, from C. E. Martz of Nevada City, was in town Wednesday. The property lies east of Nevada City in the Steep Hollow district.

Mr. Jones has run a drift tunnel of about 1000 feet and has recently encountered a small channel 35 feet in width in which there is 18 inches of free gravel that prospects all the way across. He has taken out some fine lots of gold with some handsome nuggets among them.

Some of these were worth from $10 to $50 each. The gravel averages $7 to the car and is free washing. Five men are employed at the mine.

Game Warden Earl Hiscox, who has been working out of the San Francisco office, arrived in Nevada City yesterday and is visiting relatives and friends.

RED CROSS CLOTHES THE NATION'S NEEDY

Flour, Bread, Clothing Reach Into More Than Five Million Homes of Jobless

The greatest task ever undertaken by a relief agency in the history of private charity is drawing to a close with the final distribution of cotton clothing to more than five million families by the American Red Cross.

At the direction of the Congress, beginning eighteen months ago, the Red Cross undertook to convert the wheat and cotton surpluses of the Farm Board into food and clothing for the unemployed and needy. In the consequent operation, this relief agency entered upon a commercial enterprise greater than any single commercial firm has ever undertaken in the same period of time.

In the ensuing months the Red Cross converted 85,000,000 bushels of wheat into flour and bread and gave it to 5,803,000 families. The distribution was through 3,700 Red Cross chapters and hundreds of other charitable agencies. During the severe northwestern drought of 1931 the Red Cross also gave wheat in the form of food for livestock to 184,188 families.

The clothing — dresses, underwear, overalls, jumpers, sweaters and stockings for men, women and children, and even blankets and comforters—was distributed to 5,465,410 families. More than 54,000,000 ready-made garments and 92,000,000 yards of cotton cloth were given to the needy. This clothing came from 844,000 bales of cotton.

The wheat distribution was concluded in June, 1933, and final distribution of cotton clothing is occurring in the fall months.

In handling these tasks voted to it by Congress, the Red Cross will expend from its own treasury $735,000. At the same time the organization carried on its regular program of disaster relief; of service to the veterans of all our wars; of educational and welfare work through the Junior Red Cross; of health education and public health nursing and of life saving and first aid. Funds for this work come from the membership roll call the Red Cross chapters conduct from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving Day, when every one is invited to join the Red Cross and aid in this vital relief work.

Seven hundred thousand women volunteers under the Red Cross banner sewed for the needy last year and many thousands still are making cotton garments for their Red Cross chapters.

The Red Cross has 3,701 chapters and 10,000 branches of chapters. Thus it can be mobilized nationwide in a great relief task within 24 hours.

Let Fall Hats Enhance Your Coiffure

FASHION DECREES HAIR BE WORN HIGHER ON THE NECK, STAMPS APPROVAL ON BUNS, SNOODS, AND BANGS

BY HARRIET

THE glamour of new fall coiffures is surpassed only by the smart hats which top them.

This is the year when a girl should decide on the way she wants to wear her hair before she steps out and buys a hat.

Most of the hats are pretty revealing. Some show the back of the head; others leave one side exposed for all the world to see. Therefore, if you have planned a coiffure which has most of its advantageous points on the back of your head, by all means get a hat which is tilted toward the front, allowing all the tricky curls and swirls in the back to show.

Hair is worn higher on the neck this year If you have a bun or a figure eight, wear it well up off your neck. And if you have bobbed hair, keep it cut real short.

BANGS are worn a lot, but they aren't the old-fashioned curtain-fringe variety. These new bangs sometimes are on either side of the forehead, with a space in the center.

Again, they are in the center, with spaces on the sides. You can cut them on a slant if you want to be really original.

If you can wear your hair behind your ears, by all means do it. Nothing is more flattering or youthful for a girl with clear-cut features.

If you have bobbed hair, all well and good. It's always chic. But if you have long hair, don't cut it. Buns and snoods are decidedly in the fore right now.

Besides, you can do more things with long hair And it's easier to arrange it as a fitting foundation for a smart hat.

A Lady Lou model hat, feathers and all, such as that shown above, is charming for afternoon wear by the mature woman. It is worn at a slight angle and fits in perfectly with a semi-formal type of dress. The white feathers stick downward from the side of the crown through the brim and hang just in front of the ear. The picture at right displays the type of coiffure which sets off to best advantage the high-in-the-back felt hat.

QUAIL SEASON OPENS NOV. 15 TO DECEMBER 31

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 6—The 1933 quail season opens this year on November 15, and closes December 31.

While the season is increased 15 days this year, the bag, possession and weekly limit has been lessened, it will be lawful to kill 10 quail, either valley, mountain or desert, per day, with 10 birds in possession. The limit for the week is 20 quail.

Reports from game wardens in quail areas are that there are more birds this year than last, and that there should be very good shooting this season.

Hunters will do well to keep on the lookout for posted lands, as especilally in the southern part of the state many hundreds of acres have been added since last year to the system of game bird sanctuaries.

SPORTSMEN TO SHOOT PHEASANTS NOV. 15TH

With the duck season in full swing and the quail season scheduled to open on November 15, the shot gun experts will have a chance to enjoy another upland game bird sport this month. On November 15, for six days, there will be an open season on pheasant sthroughout most of the state, some areas having been closed for this season.

The Fish and Game Commission has closed the following counties this year to pheasant hunting:

Santa Barbara, Ventura, Marin, Sonoma, San Luis Obispo, Lassen, and Modoc, south of the 9th standard parallel. The 9th standard parallel extends about 15 miles below the Oregon-California State line. Running from the eastern side of Modoc county it passes three miles south of Fort Bidwell, thence a little north of Boles Ranger Station and thence a short distance south of Clear Lake on the western side of the county.

For more than 20 years, thousands of pheasants have been raised at the state game farms at Chino and Yountville, and liberated throughout the entire state. Those that have been turned loose in certain counties have increased under natural conditions until the pheasant population is estimated at upward of a million birds.

Pheasants are reported abundant around Tule Lake, Siskiyou county; in the northern part of Modoc county in the upper Sacramento valley between Redding and Red Bluff, particularly around Anderson and Cottonwood. Many birds are seen in the delta areas of the Sacramento and San Juan rivers, especially in the vicinity of Walnut Grove, Isleton, Stockton and Lodi.

Airplane Driven by Steam

An airplane engine which burns crude oil and derives its power from steam has been developed by two Akron, O., inventors, Erick Beckley and Harold Johnson. "NEVER AGAIN" IS CRY AGAINST IMPENDING WAR

NOTE: Edward Berwick, for many years a member and leader of the Commonwealth Club of San Francisco, one of the most outspoken opponents of war and one of the most cogent reasoners in support of peace and fairplay among nations, has addressed the following letter to the Nevada City Nugget. Frank Simonds, writer on current European tendencies, seems to think Europe is rapidly approaching another war cataclysm. Some observers place war at not more than two years away. It behooves every citizen to think carefully over this outlook and make up his or her mind, now, whether under any conditions except physical invasion by an enemy, this country should participate in another war. Mr. Berwick's letter follows:

LOST! 1918'S SLOGAN "NEVER AGAIN"!

Editor, Nevada City Nugget
Nevada City, Calif.,

Sir: The maddest, gladdest day this old world ever saw was November 11th, 1918. That day an armistice was agreed upon and the bloodiest war ever fought nominally ended. The slogan "Never Again" echoed round the world. "Never Again," what?

Incredible as it may now seem there had been every day, for nearly four years and four months, an average of 6666 young men, the flower of human kind, brutally murdered, and twice that number shell-shocked gassed, wounded, maimed, or crippled for life.

Why?

Because of the "mismanagement and stupidity" of all parties concerned, if we may believe the statements of two leaders of those very parties, Count Von Buelow, Germany's Foreign Secretary, and Lord d'Abernon, British Ambassador to Berlin.

In this favored country Woodrow Wilson was re-elected President because he had "Kept us out of war." But lying propaganda, artfully disseminated, as to alleged German atrocities, "cutting off children's hands and women's breasts" and so forth, changed the temper of our citizens and Wilson's attitude; tho' such reports had no foundation in fact, as searchers like Will Irwin and others afterwards proved, not a single instance of anything of the kind being anywhere discovered.

But the demon of Hate went abroad in our land. War mongers and munition makers coined dollars in billions, and have since become stirrers up of strife and opponents of disarmanent at Geneva and the world over. So much that "Never again"! seems perilously near becoming forgotten.

Conscious of being victimized by the unjust treaty of Versailles young Germany is naturally resentful at the terms of that treaty, forced on their people by the starvation of German women and children by five months blockade after the publication of the armistice, accepted on the basis of Wilson's fourteen points. And so today war talk again prevails. But since 1918 war fashions have changed. No more armed men pitted against armed men; but air fleets at midnight dropping poison gas and incendiary bombs over enemy capital cities, wiping out in a few hours whole populations in millions.

Any sane person knows that Germany without sea fleet, air fleet, or land fleet (tanks) is unable to make war." It is time the human family had the sense to resist the machinations of those who make hard money out of human slaughter and for all nations at once to raise the 1918 slogan "Never Again!" The only way to disarm is to disarm! Talk! Talk! Talk!!! won't do it.

Birthday Party For Mrs. Antone Giani

Many relatives and friends of Mrs. Antone Giani were treated to a birthday party, in celebration of her natal day in her home last Monday evening.

Mrs. Giani was born in far away Trontano, Italy, 56 years ago, marrying Antone Giani there before he came to the United States in 1898 and following him to this country in 1905.

Mrs. Charles Giani, daughter-in-law, who resides on Sacramento street baked the big birthday cake which was beautifully decorated and was the centerpiece for a delicious banquet. After enjoying the feast the large gathering of relatives and friends spent the remaining hours of the evening in jojous dancing to beautiful Italian music furnished by Louis Maphidini on his accordian.

All of Mrs. Giani's children were present and are, Mrs. Frank Romiti of Sacramento, Virgil Giani, Placerville, Charles and Peter Giani of Nevada City.

Mrs. Andrew James of Lost Hill, was recently operated on for appendicitis at Doctor Wheeler hospital at Colfax. She is getting along nicely and will be home soon.

NORTH COLUMBIA

By F. W. BIGELOW

NORTH COLUMBIA, Nov. 8—Lowell J. Dudley, born and raised in the almost extinct town of North Columbia, has returned to take up mining activities on Spring Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Bigelow visited here recently. Mr Bigelow was raised here also It seems this week has been an unofficial return to your old home week.

Thanksgiving comes soon and with it the numerous and varied pictures on the nations publications. We believe the turkeys should be given a break and feature the pumpkin. Poor ol' things get enough publicity on the dinning room table without reminding them constantly.

In Pt. Barrow, Alaska, on November 11, 1929, four men, the only white inhabitants stood at atention in a blinding snowstorm with the weather close to 50 degrees below zero, while an American flag was lowered to half mast.

Men on the frontier should remember too.

Here in North Columbia we honor one man, Clifford Murray, killed in action August 20, 1918.

NORTH STAR TAILINGS RICH IN CONCENTRATES

Cash Cook and associates, who have a lease on the McDonald ranch tailings of the North Star have pepped up their mill so that it is handling 75 tons of tailings a day.

The flotation process is being used and the plant is operating smoothly with concentrates being piled up at a good rate.

The company is building a new road to the property for winter use.

C. J. Lyser, superintendent of the Boss mine and wife were business visitors in Nevada City Wednesday.

Armistice Day 1933

There comes a magic day
in grey November,
Calling to us in thrilling
tones, "Remember."

A time is this for memory and for tears,
For retrospective visions of lost years;
A time to ask ourselves,
"Have we been true,
Our living heroes, and our dead—to you?"

There comes a magic day
in grey November,
Calling to us in thrilling
tones, "Remember."

A. M. C.

Tomorrow, Saturday, November the 11th, is Armistice Day and we shall close our place of business on that day.

Our sentiment and respect for that occasion are truthfully expressed in the accompanying lines.

NEV. CITY PARTY CATCHES SALMON IN KLAMATH LAKE

A party composed of Mr. and Mrs. Larson Henwood and children, Mrs. Clemente Muccardini, Elisha Curtis, Larry Seiker and sister, Pearl, enjoyed a successful fishing trip on the Feather river above Oroville last Sunday.

Elisha Curtis caught a 45 pound salmon and Larson Henwood caught a big 32 pound salmon.

It is the season when the salmon are running and many can be seen in the river. One of the party remarked that when a big fish jumped up out of the water it looked like a good sized boat and they were jumping up every few minutes.

Elisha Curtis returned to the American river Wednesday and enjoyed another fishing trip of a day.

COMMERCIAL STREET REVEALS OLD TIME PEP

The "awakening of Commercial street" in Nevada City, has been accomplished within a few months, after many years of seeming slumber. There are only a few of the old store buildings unoccupied, today with every chance that these will be remodeled and occupied in the near future. Substantial business houses, preparing to stay in Nevada City have moved in and among them are Carnes, sign painter; Dixie Cafe, Vogue Cleaning Shop, Bosworth's Second Hand Store. Within a few weeks the old Native Sons corner, Pine and Commercial streets hall will be ready for occupancy. Next week will see the opening of the modern six room apartment house of Frank Davies in the old Transcript building upstairs, and the Bernadette Beauty Parlor downstairs. The whole building has been remodeled by A. H. Burton, well known contractor of Grass Valley.

This old street was the main business section of the city years ago. It has been the scene of many odd, interesting and amusing events, in the years gone by. Fred Breese, plumber of Commercial street, told a Nugget reporter, he remembered when there were 700 Chinese in Nevada City and about the best Fourth of July ever celebrated was put on by the Chinese They hired an immense 250 foot dragon valued at $20,0000 from San Francisco, brought up a number of Chinese women with tiny feet from the city, and the horses in the parade were gaily decked out in bright silk trappings. It was truly a gorgeous and amazing sight as that old dragon in the lead paraded down Commercial street with all the other floats bringing up the rear. Many changes have occurred since the days of horses and wagons to the present automobile days and this street is again resuming its share in the commercial life of Nevada City.
